

Catching Rays, Winning Cash, and Learning Along the Way.

Ottawa, Ontario, (June 8th 2011) - Capital Solar Power, has launched a video contest for youth age thirteen to twenty-five. The contest was designed to raise awareness about the benefits of solar power, in particular Ontario's microFIT program which allows Ontarians to send their solar energy into the grid for money. The contest encourages youth to make fun, creative videos that educate viewers on solar power and the microFIT program. The best video according to the judges at Capital Solar Power will win a $500 cash prize. David Padbury the contest manager encourages everyone to "check out our website, whenitssunny.com."

The contest concludes August 19th 2011 at which point the videos will be judged by Capital Solar Power Staff. The winner will be announced on the website by June 21st 2011.
